

3<sup>1001</sup> NIGHTS

CONCEPT BOARD

"A Symphony of 1001 Nights" is a captivating blend of Arabian and South Indian Malabar aesthetics, manifested in a collection of handloom lehengas. Inspired by the enchanting tales of Arabian Nights, the lehengas harmoniously marry traditional South Indian silhouettes with opulent Arabian embellishments. Crafted from handloom fabrics, adorned with zari embroidery, mirror, beadwork, and tie-dye techniques, each piece is a vibrant canvas reflecting the rich cultural tapestry of India. The color palette of royal blues, deep purples, emerald greens, and ruby reds evokes the luxurious ambiance of Arabian nights while paying homage to the vivid tones of Malabar attire. This collection not only celebrates fashion but serves as a cultural bridge, empowering local artisans and preserving their invaluable craftsmanship. "A Symphony of 1001 Nights" invites wearers to embark on a journey of unity in diversity, where every stitch and embellishment tells a story of cultural convergence.

STYLED PHOTOSHOOT

The majestic backdrop of the historic Arakkal Palace in Kannur, this shoot seamlessly blends the enchanting allure of Arabian Nights with the rich Islamic aesthetics of India. The architecture and ambiance of the Arakkal Palace provide an opulent canvas to showcase a fusion of Arabian and Indian elements, creating a harmonious tapestry of cultural beauty. The models will be adorned in bespoke ensembles that merge the intricate details of Islamic design with the opulence of Arabian fashion, featuring luxurious fabrics, ornate embroidery, and vibrant hues. The play of light and shadow within the palace's grandeur will accentuate the mystical ambiance, capturing the essence of a timeless love story between two cultures.
